EUmonitor.net

Advertise on our sites | About us | Contact us | RSS

Keywords Search site Choose Gov't department to search or search off-site

Continuous monitoring of EU news, policy and politics

Jun 05, 2008 - 02:43 PM

Microsoft SEE HOW WE'RE HELPING PEOPLE GO FAR ONMYWAYUK.COM

PublicTechnology.net PublicTenders.net NHStenders.net PublicPolitics.net PublicPages.net WhitehallPages.net EducationPages.net EUmonitor.net

e-Government National Awards | Public sector IT news. Top stories: Local government | Central government | e-Gov strategy | EU strategy | Events diary

EU Commission
- Commision news
- Policy news
- External relations
- Internal services
- Commissioners
- Presidency
- Research & Dev't

Browse news by date

EU politics news
- EPP-ED Group
- Socialist Group
- Liberal Democrats

EU organisations
- European Council
- EU Court of human rights
- European Central Bank
- EU Defence Agency
- EU environment agency
- European Training F'n
- Committee of the Regions
- European space agency

EU in the news
- Media coverage

Lobbying the EU
- USA mission to the EU

Resources
- Home
- Recommend us
- Add directory listing

Public Sector Tenders
UK and EU tenders by email on day of publication
www.ojwatch.co.uk

Govt/Regulator Monitoring
UK/EU Industry specific political, regulatory & key influencer monitor www.novares.co.uk

Polish Workers a
Specialists in the si workers from Euro resolveltd.co.uk

New model helps to calculate energy output of stars

Print article | Email article to a friend | This was published: 21 May 2008 - 06:39 am

An international team of astronomers has calculated the total energy output of all the stars in the universe. The researchers also found that around half of the energy emitted by stars is absorbed by dust particles floating in the vast expanses of ...
Read full article from the original source.

Note: Source: CORDIS News
Copyright of this item belongs to the original source.

Posted by: News engine

Other latest articles on the subject of European CORDIS - Community Research & Development Information Service

· Summer School on Endocrinology, Bregenz, Austria (5 Jun 2008)
· Match2BioSME coaching workshop, Brussels, Belgium (5 Jun 2008)
· Researchers isolate ocean methane-eating microbes (5 Jun 2008)
· New middleware enables access to grid power from your desktop (5 Jun 2008)
· REACH pre-registration phase begins (5 Jun 2008)
· EuroGentest already helping patients across Europe (4 Jun 2008)
· Experts call for increased efforts to tackle emerging zoonotic infections (4 Jun 2008)
· The physics of tearing (4 Jun 2008)
· EGI workshop, Geneva, Switzerland (4 Jun 2008)
· North Sea Fisheries Workshop, Copenhagen, Denmark (3 Jun 2008)

>>>More articles on European CORDIS - Community Research & Development Information Service>>>

LATEST JOBS

> Click to browse: All latest jobs
> Click to search for a specific type of job

400+ jobs live. Powered by JobsGoPublic

Public grants to SMEs
European Commission FP7 Projects
Obtaining/Management of R&D funds

gy Law Jobs

Ads by Google

Advertise here to reach 117,000 public sector & NHS buyers using the Public Technology website network

Today's most read...

EU - Ivory Coast: press briefing by Guillaume Kigbafori SORO, Ivorian Prime Minister and Commissioner Louis MICHEL

Microsoft SEE HOW WE'RE HELPING PEOPLE GO FAR ONMYWAYUK.COM

EU & IT strategy

Climate change: EU Awareness campaign aims to create virtual community of young 'changers'

1st European Investment Bank loan outside Europe to include UMTS broadband technology

City of Utrecht Selects blocks unknown malware and stealthy crimeware attacks

EU promotes European emergency number 112 to citizens

Electronic Identity: easy access to public services across the EU

EU establishes European Criminal Records Information System to interconnect data

EU moves towards a single European strategy on e-Justice

EU completes major research & innovation project for risk management, ORCHESTRA

Antitrust: EU takes note of Microsoft's announcement on supporting ODF in Office

Copyright:Site is copyright Public Technology Limited 2003-2008
EU material used on this site is used courtesy of the European Union. Crown copyright material used under click use licence C02W0007583. Parliamentary material used under click use licence P2005000039.
This web site automatically and continually monitors, collects and publishes latest breakings news from a large number of sources.
Copyright of material belongs to the original source
This website is part of Public Technology Limited, which also publishes PublicTechnology.net
> Advertise on PublicPolitics.net and PublicTechnology.net
> About PublicTechnology Limited > Contact us

> Terms & conditions of use
> Privacy policy
You can put our information on your own site via RSS data feeds at this link
Technorati Profile